Meat Packers, Coal Diggers Out On Strike

CIO Men Ignore Truman's Plea

CHICAGO, March 16—One hundred thousand CIO packing-house workers who handle about half the nation's meat production struck today for higher wages.

The men walked off their jobs at the 12:01 a. m. deadline at more than 100 plants despite President Truman's last-minute plea to halt a paralyzing tie-up in the nation's meat industry.

Forty minutes after the strike began at Chicago, pickets formed a line at the main entrance to the spacious Union Stockyards under the watchful eyes of Chicago police. Others joined the lines as the morning passed.

CIO officials claimed the walk-out would cut supplies "by at least 50 percent" but the big meat packers and the AFL meat cutters estimated only a 25 percent drop.

MEANWHILE, truckers continued to deliver livestock for slaughter as police issued orders the drivers be allowed entrance to the yards "if they wish."

Early picketing was peaceful. Truckers were greeted with shouts from the pickets to "keep going" but the line broke when the huge tractor-trailers turned in the entrance.

Chicago police were alerted for possible trouble later in the day when the first shift was due to report.

Officials of the striking union said the walkout would be nationwide affecting 75,000 workers in meat packing plants outside Chicago.

Industry spokesmen declared the effects of the strike would be felt this weekend by consumers. Some industry spokesmen predicted meat supplies would be cut in half within a short time.

$16,000 More Taxes Than In '47 Received

Almost complete tabulation of Pickaway County's real estate collections for the first half of 1947 amounted to $319,427.30, representing an increase of about $16,000 over last year.

Robert Colville, Pickaway County treasurer, said he expected one or two more firms to report within another day or two at which time he will turn the books over to County Auditor Fred L. Tipton.

The tax books were scheduled to close March 1.

Distribution of the tax receipts by the auditor to townships, schools and corporations will be made about 30 days after the auditor receives the books, Colville revealed.

A detailed breakdown on the collections from the various sources was not available Tuesday.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

Times continue perilous. Right behind the income tax man comes the milliner. And Easter bonnets are not deductible as "business expense"—an indication that the Treasury is not familiar with the facts of domestic life.

An argument rages in Washington as to whether the Internal Revenue Department is efficient. I would suggest examining any taxpayer's pockets.

A photo of two empty whisky bottles in the department files is introduced as evidence of laxity. It would seem to show thoroughness. What other tax collection agency plucks a man down to his last two empty bottles and gets them too?

And if the bottles actually were drained in the department that makes sense too. Why would an internal revenue worker buy alcohol for external use?

Miner Walkout Now Nationwide

PITTSBURGH, March 16—A swiftly moving paralyzing strike of bituminous coal miners had reached the far west today.

United Mine Workers' members in Utah and Wyoming joined nearly 300,000 other miners in protests against delays by operators in granting a $100 a month pension plan.

Already, the mining industry was grinding to a standstill in the east, south and midwest. It appeared likely the entire industry would be idle by nightfall, despite possibility of federal intervention.

Rumors from Washington hinted President Truman would step into the strike picture to prevent the action from paralyzing other industries, and imperiling the tremendous production effort of the past eight months in the United States.

THERE SEEMED little doubt that the remaining 150,000 soft coal diggers would leave the pits before the day ended.

The walkout of members of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers started slowly Sunday night, gained headway Monday morning, and then snowballed into a nationwide shutdown during the day.

Production losses recorded for yesterday alone were placed at more than half a million tons.

The strike stemmed from public statements by Lewis last Friday that the UMW contract, had been "dishonored," and "defaulted" by the operators, who thus far have not put into action a pension plan for miners over 60 with 20 years' service.

Hardest hit by the sudden work stoppages was the steel industry. In Pittsburgh spokesmen for the United States Steel Corp. said production curtailments would have to be made within a few days unless the miners go back to work quickly.

The miners indicated they had no intentions of returning to work until the pension plan is put into effect.

UNDER TERMS of the UMW contract, operators pay a royalty of 10 cents on every ton of coal mined. The royalty is turned over to the pension fund, which now approximates $30,000,000.

Spokesmen for the operators said the delay in making the plan effective stemmed from lack of a suitable formula. The operators held they were attempting to work out the best possible system for the beneficiaries, and "it all takes time."

Accord Exists Among Military, Forrestal Says

WASHINGTON, March 16—Secretary of Defense James Forrestal announced today that "general accord" has been reached among the nation's military leaders on all points connected with plans for coordinated action.

Forrestal said that disagreements between leaders of the armed services were threshed out at last weekend's momentous conference in Key West, and that settlement of basic points at issue was achieved.

The defense secretary promised to make public a full report on the conference after further discussions with President Truman.

Forrestal will carry to Congress this week the defense establishment's demands for more money, more man power and greater air strength.

His efforts are emphasized by Mr. Truman's decision to address a joint session of Congress (Continued on Page Two)

POWERFUL NEW WEAPON

Reds Throw Great Grain Crop To Western Europe

WASHINGTON, March 16—A House committee reported today that Russia has thrown a powerful new weapon—the world's largest grain crop—into the struggle for control of Western Europe.

The use of this potent weapon in the clash of opposing ideologies is causing considerable concern in administration circles.

Undersecretary of Agriculture Dodd admitted that "it is complicating the situation very much."

Dodd in effect told a House appropriations subcommittee, in closed-door testimony made public today, that the Russians are offering the non-Communist European states more wheat than the United States is giving them.

West Germany Added To Aid Plan Nations

PARIS, March 16—The 16-nation Marshall Plan conference here accepted today an Anglo-French proposal to include representatives from the three western zones of Germany in their deliberations.

The conference also heard a formal Portuguese proposal that Spain be embraced in the plan "to make Western European cooperation complete."

The suggestion to include Generalissimo Franco's Spain in the recovery project was made by Portuguese Foreign Minister Jose de Mota. He said he hoped that Spain would be included "in the near future."

His proposal was made in endorsing the Anglo-French request on Western Germany.

DE MATA SAID that the German idea "gives us a noble example of how countries can put their desire for real peace above natural resentment."

According to the plan, representatives of Allied occupation authorities in Germany will be invited along with "competent officials" to function as observers.

The conference adopted technical reports on agriculture, food supplies, steel production and transportation in Europe which will be forwarded to Washington.

It also adopted a proposal that a working committee prepare a draft for a permanent economic secretariat to act as an intermediary between the United States and the 16 beneficiary nations.

Italian Sees Reds Defeated

PARIS, March 16—Italian Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza declared his belief today that Italian voters will repudiate the Communists in the April 18 national elections.

Count Sforza expressed his "profound conviction" that the present government parties will win in the balloting.

Stressing that he is not a prophet, the foreign minister said it is his personal opinion that the voters will rebuff the Communists "because the Italian people are not Communists temperamentally but bourgeois with respect for property."

THE UNDERSECRETARY

said Great Britain already has reached an agreement with the Russians for 700,000 tons of coarse grains, in return for which the British will furnish such things as heavy machinery.

The disclosure of Dodd's testimony followed by a day the Agriculture department's announcement that the Soviet Union harvested almost 400 million bushels more bread grain last year than the United States despite this country's all-time record wheat crop.

Russia was stated to have harvested one billion 795 million bushels of wheat and rye, compared to one billion 391 million bushels in this country.

The department's office of foreign agricultural relations pointed out that the Russian harvest is still far below its prewar average.

It was recalled that several years ago the Russians shipped grain to France just before a national election with a great fanfare of publicity which neglected to point out that the grain was carried in American vessels and was paid for by the French in American dollars.

DODD ALSO warned the House group against the possibility that Russia "for political purposes or for foreign exchange might move into a market and offer commodities or supplies under conditions that we could not meet."

Dodd asserted that Russia twice deprived her own people of commodities "to the extent of starvation" in order to ship them abroad for foreign exchange and added that she might do the same thing again.

The State department last Saturday confirmed reports of bread "riots" in Moscow where long lines of Russian citizens were said to have formed before shops trying to obtain bread.

Woman Victim Of Sadistic Torturing

CINCINNATI, March 16—Cincinnati police held Harold Boehm, 32, today in connection with what they called the most sadistic beating and maiming of a woman they had ever seen.

They said Boehm admitted kidnapping 25-year-old Barbara Sevedge, two weeks ago, forcibly holding her in his rooms, beating her with a metal buckle and hacking his initials in her arm with a pen-knife.

When the officials entered Boehm's apartment yesterday they found the nude girl semi-conscious with both eyes blackened, her lips cut, bruises over her entire body and the initials B. S. and H. B. carved in her right upper arm. Her clothes had been torn to bits.

Authorities reported Boehm could give no reasons for his actions. He was held for investigation.

The girl's sister, Mrs. Wanda Sarver, said she tipped off patrolmen after she saw Boehm enter the apartment building. She told officers that Barbara had been missing for two weeks.

Senate GOP Chiefs Halt Tax Debate

World Situation Brings Delay

WASHINGTON, March 16—Senate GOP leaders today postponed opening debate on their tax reduction bill until Thursday in view of President Truman's foreign policy message to Congress tomorrow.

Acting Majority Leader Wherry, (R) Neb., at the same time, declared that "reports that Russia is bringing pressure on Denmark, Norway and Sweden is evidence that you can't stop Russia with dollars."

Minority Leader Barkley (D) Ky., announced that Senate Democrats were postponing a decision on taxes because the President's message might make it "utterly futile to take any action on taxes at all."

Wherry announced to the Senate that both a Republican conference on taxes and Senate consideration of the $5.7 billion tax cut have been deferred 24 hours until Thursday. The measure had been slated to be called up in the Senate at noon tomorrow.

WHAT EFFECT the President's message on the foreign situation will have on tax cutting was anybody's guess. But Wherry said:

"What we've got to do is conserve our dollars for our own defense. Armed force is the only thing Russia understands."

Police Seeking Girl Feared Kidnaped

CONCORD, Vt., March 16—Police along the North Atlantic states today pushed a search for a 16-year-old school girl believed to have been kidnaped by an ex-convict.

Charlotte O'Brien, a school girl, was reported by her parents to have been forced at gun point to accompany Kenneth A. Ingalls, 34, who they described as a lumberjack and former prison inmate.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Brien, the parents, said their daughter accompanied Ingalls because she lived in fear of her alleged abductor and further feared refusal would mean death to her parents.

The mother said Ingalls, a jealous admirer of the girl, had threatened Charlotte within the last two weeks. She said:

"Ingalls worked for us last Summer as a handyman. At that time he said he loved our daughter but I told him he was too old for her and that he better get it right out of his mind."

Mrs. O'Brien said Ingalls told them he only wanted Charlotte to go with him to Littleton while he signed some papers and that she would be brought back safely the next morning. Mother and father went to the local postoffice to keep the promised rendezvous but Charlotte never was brought back.

Chaos Is Seen In Holy Land

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 16—The United Nations Palestine Commission today warned of impending chaos in the Holy Land unless an armed force is sent there when the British mandate ends May 15.

This grim forecast of increasing bloodshed was contained in the commission's monthly report to the Security Council here. The commission minced no words in attributing much of the Palestine strife to Britain's refusal to cooperate in the UN partition plan.

WITH A WIDE SMILE on his face, Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (right), Republican, of Michigan, is shown with Sen. Tom Connally, Democrat, of Texas, after the Senate had passed, by 69-17, the full $5,300,000,000 European recovery plan bill. Sen. Connally strongly supported the measure and Sen. Vandenberg guided the passage of the bill.

Truman Farm Fund Cut Only 4 Pct. By Panel

WASHINGTON, March 16—The Republican economy program was dealt a blow today when the House appropriations committee reduced President Truman's request for farm funds for 1949 by a mere $27 million, a four percent cut.

This was in sharp contrast to last year when the committee lopped $383 million off the President's request for the Department of Agriculture, a 32 percent slash.

The committee's action bore out predictions made previously by Democrats that farm funds would not be seriously curtailed in a presidential election year.

The administration requested $635,332,480 for the new fiscal year beginning July 1. The committee approved $608,421,453, a cut of $26,911,027. This is $154,105,198 below the amount approved last year.

IN ADDITION to the $608 million, the committee also included in the annual bill 81-4 millions in permanent appropriations over which it has only nominal control.

It also authorized the Rural Electrification Administration to borrow $400 million from the Treasury for construction of projects for cooperatives. This sum is $175 million more than the amount authorized for the current fiscal year and $100 million above the amount requested in the budget.

The bill contains $65 million for the continuation of the national school lunch program.

Other funds included in the annual measure with any cuts or increases in budget requests, follow:

Extension service to the states, $22,966,950; flood control, $6,000,000; a cut of $3,000,000; soil conservation, $45,048,000, an increase of $6,000,000; production and marketing administration, $9,731,100, an increase of $179,000; farm tenancy loans, $1,500,000; production and subsistence loans $60,000,000, a cut of $15,000,000.

Approximately 140 persons attended the Dairy Producers meeting held at Five Points school Monday evening.

Sponsored by the Committee on Ohio Dairy Products, the program emphasized milk improvement and had the cooperation of the Ohio State university agricultural extension service and the Pickaway County extension office.

The Five Points meeting was the first of five sessions being held for Pickaway County dairymen this week.

Tuesday night, a session is scheduled in Clarksburg school, Wednesday in Kingston, Thursday in Laurelville and Friday in the Fairgrounds Coliseum, Circleville.

The latter meeting, scheduled to be the largest and most extensive, probably will bring a capacity crowd.

Fred Greiner, dairy technology specialist from Ohio State, presented an illustrated lecture on the care of milk before it leaves the farm.

DAYTON, March 16—Yesterday, seven-year-old Teddy Martin had a dog. Today, he had only a quarter.

A callous motorist, whose auto struck and killed Teddy's wire-haired terrier, Jiggs, handed Teddy a quarter with the remark:

"Here, go bury your dog with this."

Heart-broken Teddy won't spend the quarter. He told his mother: "I'm going to put it some place where I can see it—to remember Jiggs by."

U.S. Policy To Be Given Congress

Leaders To Get Preview Of Talk

WASHINGTON, March 16—President Truman today called congressional leaders to a White House conference at 11 a. m. (EST) tomorrow, 90 minutes before his address to a joint session on the alarming international situation.

The President in his message to the joint session is expected to declare that the United States will bluntly warn Russia that further Communist aggression will bring strong American military or political counter-measures.

Among leaders summoned to the White House conference were House Speaker Martin, (R) Mass., Sen. Vandenberg, (R) Mich., chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, Sen. Barkley (D) Ky., Senate minority leader, and House Minority Leader Rayburn (D) Tex.

Mr. Truman, it was believed, would outline to the congressional leaders his reasons for asking to appear in person before Congress.

Washington observers believe today that the blunt warning to the Soviet Union will be contained in the foreign policy program the President will present to a joint session of the House and Senate.

This historic program may call for:

1. Revival of Selective Service and enactment of Universal Military Training.
2. Building up and deploying mobile air force which can meet aggression at its source quickly and effectively.
3. Authority for supporting any defensive military alliance of the Western European states along the lines established for Britain, France, Belgium, Netherlands and Luxembourg.
4. Keeping a close tabulation on the nation's manpower and industrial strength so as to convert them easily to wartime production.
5. Continuation of a non-partisan foreign policy because it is the nation as a whole that is threatened.
6. Speedy passage of the Marshall Plan.

MR. TRUMAN will appear personally before a joint session of the House and Senate to make his address at 12:30 p. m. EST. The speech will be broadcast by all major networks.

Secretary of State George Marshall indicated that the message will deal with military training. He asked the Senate armed services committee to defer until tomorrow, after the President has spoken, a hearing on UMT which had been scheduled originally for today.

Czech Purge Hitting Army

PRAGUE, March 16—Foreign diplomatic sources said today that the purge of the Czech army which now is in full swing appears directed chiefly against officers and men who served with Western Allied forces during the war.

Many of these soldiers reportedly are being expelled, demoted or removed from first class units and assigned to isolated groups.

These men had a difficult time in the past few years. Few of them were promoted. Many of them now are planning to flee the country at the first opportunity.

$16,000 More Taxes Than In '47 Received

Almost complete tabulation of Pickaway County's real estate collections for the first half of 1947 amounted to $319,427.30, representing an increase of about $16,000 over last year.

This was in sharp contrast to last year when the committee lopped $383 million off the President's request for the Department of Agriculture, a 32 percent slash.

The committee's action bore out predictions made previously by Democrats that farm funds would not be seriously curtailed in a presidential election year.

The administration requested $635,332,480 for the new fiscal year beginning July 1. The committee approved $608,421,453, a cut of $26,911,027. This is $154,105,198 below the amount approved last year.

IN ADDITION to the $608 million, the committee also included in the annual bill 81-4 millions in permanent appropriations over which it has only nominal control.

It also authorized the Rural Electrification Administration to borrow $400 million from the Treasury for construction of projects for cooperatives. This sum is $175 million more than the amount authorized for the current fiscal year and $100 million above the amount requested in the budget.

The bill contains $65 million for the continuation of the national school lunch program.

Other funds included in the annual measure with any cuts or increases in budget requests, follow:

Extension service to the states, $22,966,950; flood control, $6,000,000, a cut of $3,000,000; soil conservation, $45,048,000, an increase of $6,000,000; production and marketing administration, $9,731,100, an increase of $179,000; farm tenancy loans, $1,500,000; production and subsistence loans $60,000,000, a cut of $15,000,000.

The Five Points meeting was the first of five sessions being held for Pickaway County dairymen this week.

Tuesday night, a session is scheduled in Clarksburg school, Wednesday in Kingston, Thursday in Laurels and Friday in the Fairgrounds Coliseum, Circleville.

The latter meeting, scheduled to be the largest and most extensive, probably will bring a capacity crowd.

Fred Greiner, dairy technology specialist from Ohio State, presented an illustrated lecture on the care of milk before it leaves the farm.

GREINER pointed out the need for rapid cooling, showing that bacteria doubled in number.

Lad's Dog Worth More Than 25c

DAYTON, March 16—Yesterday, seven-year-old Teddy Martin had a dog. Today, he had only a quarter.

A callous motorist, whose auto struck and killed Teddy's wire-haired terrier, Jiggs, handed Teddy a quarter with the remark:

"Here, go bury your dog with this."

Heart-broken Teddy won't spend the quarter. He told his mother: "I'm going to put it some place where I can see it—to remember Jiggs by."

U.S. Policy To Be Given Congress

Leaders To Get Preview Of Talk

WASHINGTON, March 16—President Truman today called congressional leaders to a White House conference at 11 a. m. (EST) tomorrow, 90 minutes before his address to a joint session on the alarming international situation.

The President in his message to the joint session is expected to declare that the United States will bluntly warn Russia that further Communist aggression will bring strong American military or political counter-measures.

Among leaders summoned to the White House conference were House Speaker Martin, (R) Mass., Sen. Vandenberg, (R) Mich., chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, Sen. Barkley (D) Ky., Senate minority leader, and House Minority Leader Rayburn (D) Tex.

Mr. Truman, it was believed, would outline to the congressional leaders his reasons for asking to appear in person before Congress.

Washington observers believe today that the blunt warning to the Soviet Union will be contained in the foreign policy program the President will present to a joint session of the House and Senate.

This historic program may call for:

1. Revival of Selective Service and enactment of Universal Military Training.
2. Building up and deploying mobile air force which can meet aggression at its source quickly and effectively.
3. Authority for supporting any defensive military alliance of the Western European states along the lines established for Britain, France, Belgium, Netherlands and Luxembourg.
4. Keeping a close tabulation on the nation's manpower and industrial strength so as to convert them easily to wartime production.
5. Continuation of a non-partisan foreign policy because it is the nation as a whole that is threatened.
6. Speedy passage of the Marshall Plan.

MR. TRUMAN will appear personally before a joint session of the House and Senate to make his address at 12:30 p. m. EST. The speech will be broadcast by all major networks.

Secretary of State George Marshall indicated that the message will deal with military training. He asked the Senate armed services committee to defer until tomorrow, after the President has spoken, a hearing on UMT which had been scheduled originally for today.

Czech Purge Hitting Army

PRAGUE, March 16—Foreign diplomatic sources said today that the purge of the Czech army which now is in full swing appears directed chiefly against officers and men who served with Western Allied forces during the war.

Many of these soldiers reportedly are being expelled, demoted or removed from first class units and assigned to isolated groups.

These men had a difficult time in the past few years. Few of them were promoted. Many of them now are planning to flee the country at the first opportunity.

UAW To Strike

DETROIT, March 16—The United Automobile Workers announced today it has filed a strike notice against the Chrysler Corporation. The union demands a 30-cent hourly increase.

U.S. Policy To Be Given Congress

address created a sensation among officials and diplomats. But sources close to the White House cautioned that no new expansionist move by Russia, real or anticipated, caused Mr. Truman to make his unexpected decision.

For some time, and particularly since the Czech crisis while he was at Key West, Mr. Truman had planned to make a foreign policy statement.

At first, however, it was said he had decided to make it part of his St. Patrick's Day speech in New York tomorrow but on second thought decided he should make it to Congress instead.

The 15-minute talk is expected to be expanded at the St. Patrick's Day celebration in New York. Mr. Truman will fly to New York after appearing before Congress.

MR. TRUMAN'S announcement came in an atmosphere which had become supercharged over the past week by cries of "crisis" from the President, Marshall, former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and even James A. Farley, former postmaster general.

All agreed that the world situation is "very, very serious," and Byrnes urged revival of the draft.

It also was made coincidentally with the return of Defense Secretary James Forrestal and the joint chiefs of staff from a three-day meeting in Key West.

It appears clear that the President will canvas the world and find signs of Communist penetration or Soviet intervention. These problems include:

1. The possibility of new demands on the Scandinavian countries of Sweden, Norway and Denmark if Finland can be forced to knuckle down to Kremlin demands for a military pact.
2. The very serious danger that the Communists in Italy might resort to violence with Soviet support, to take over that country in event they are defeated in the April 18 elections. If the first immediate crisis comes in Italy, the U. S. would furnish whatever military aid is legally available under the Truman Doctrine.

3. The Greek-Turkish situation. An appeal for $275 million worth of military aid for these two countries has been made to Congress.
4. The possibility, believed remote, that Russian forces might seek to drive the Western powers out of Berlin and possibly all Germany.

5. A like possibility in Korea that a people's army of Koreans trained in the Russian zone might seek to take over the entire peninsula.

State Expert Visits Schools

A. D. St. Clair, field agent for the state department of education, accompanied George D. McDowell, county superintendent of schools, to several Pickaway County rural schools Tuesday morning.

St. Clair, assigned by the state department to discuss consolidation and reorganization of schools throughout Ohio, is slated to speak before the county board of education and the boards of education from Madison, Walnut, Washington, Pickaway, Tarlton and Salt Creek Tuesday night in the courthouse.

At the meeting, St. Clair is to discuss the problems confronting such a movement and the benefits which may be derived.

Smoking Ban Is Approved

COLUMBUS, March 16—Some Columbus women probably will notice a great drop in their cigaret consumption after April 13.

That's the date the smoking ban goes into effect in downtown department stores. City council passed it last night.

The measure passed was a watered down version of two others proposed earlier by the fire department. It had the backing of the retail merchants and the Ohio Hotels Association.

The Republican leadership decision to defer action answered for the time being a tentative Democratic suggestion that the Senate should hold up tax action until Mr. Truman's report has been given to the nation.

Senate Democrats conferred for two hours this morning and adjourned without taking any action on the tax bill.

Barkley said the consensus of the senators at today's caucus was to support his $4 billion substitute bill "provided the situation justifies a tax reduction."

THE DEMOCRATIC senator said he did not know what the President's message contains. The Democrats voted to await the President's message. Barkley said that was the only vote taken at the caucus.

$200 Million In Bonds Sold

COLUMBUS, March 16—Ohio sold its $200 million World War II bonus bonds today at a two percent coupon rate and for a premium of one million, 154 thousand dollars.

The premium brings the average interest rate on the bonds which have maturity dates to 15 years, to 1.92897 percent. The rate is considerably less than half the 4.41 average paid on the 10-year World War I compensation bonds.

The winning bid was entered by a syndicate of 284 of the nation's leading investment houses and banks. Managers of the syndicate are the National City Bank, the Chase National Bank, and the Bankers Trust Co.—all of New York—and the Halsey-Stuart and Co., of Chicago.

Church Asks OK To Sell Land To GE

Extra Land Set For N&W Spur

Permission to sell about an acre of land to the General Electric Co. for its Norfolk and Western railroad spur right of way into the new plant site has been petitioned in Pickaway County common pleas court.

Five trustees, representing the Church of Christ in Christian Union, requested the court's sanction, but did not state a price that would be asked for the property.

The land transfer, according to a church official, would be in addition to the 26-acre site for which the electric firm paid approximately $29,500.

In size, the new tract will be 0.272 acres and will run through the Mount of Praise campgrounds south of East Ohio street.

THE PETITION claims the religious society received the property title on a deed dated May 16, 1945, from S. H. Ruggles, representing the Elizabeth Ruggles estate.

Representing the church are Trustees E. A. Keaton, F. N. Shoemaker, S. G. Williams, Arthur George and W. L. Cozad.

Father Of 2 Asks Divorce

Two children, ages 11 and 12, are facing separation of their parents in a divorce suit filed in Pickaway County common pleas court by Robert G. Goodchild to end his 13-year marriage to Pauline E. Goodchild.

Goodchild's petition states they were married Sept. 22, 1934, in Cattlesburg, Ky. His suit as claimed in the petition, is based on gross neglect of duty.

The record states that during a recent illness she mistreated him and caused him mental anguish. Also, he protested when his brother-in-law came to live in his home.

USAF Assumes Title To Plants

WASHINGTON, March 16—The Air Force revealed today that it is assuming title to five aircraft assembly plants to keep them on a standby basis in case of emergency.

The plants are Douglas air plant, Tulsa, Okla.; Boeing Aircraft, Wichita, Kans.; Curtiss-Wright, Lockland, Ohio; North America Aircraft, Kansas City, Mo., and Fisher Body, Cleveland.

An Air Force spokesman said that the lease holders—the aircraft companies—would continue to operate the plants but that the USAF would hold titles in order to have them immediately available in case of emergency.

GI Checks To Carry Data

All World War II veterans enrolled for education or training under the GI Bill of Rights will receive with their March subsistence checks, due in April, an explanation of the law which increases subsistence allowances to certain groups of trainees.

James P. Shea, Pickaway Veterans Service Officer, said the enclosure will explain that only veterans taking full-time courses of education in schools, colleges and universities will be entitled to the increased allowances.

The new payments, effective with the periods of training on and after April 1, will be at the monthly rate of $75 for a veteran without dependents, $105 for a veteran with one dependent and $120 for a veteran with more than one dependent. The message will explain that veterans entitled to $75 or $105 will not have to apply for the increased allowances. However, veterans entitled to $120 because they have more than one dependent must submit information about their additional dependents before payments at the new rate can be made.

While Other New Car Prices Are Advancing

HERE'S WHY Kaiser-Frazer can make this announcement while other new car prices spiral upward. Kaiser-Frazer controls its own supply of many basic raw materials . . . has its own engine plant, foundry and steel mill. Materials from these sources funnel into new and modern Willow Run—the largest automobile manufacturing plant in the world under one roof.

Unfinished steel goes in one end of this great plant and comes out a quality automobile, ready to be driven away. All this is accomplished in a matter of hours, and with the economy of Kaiser-Frazer straight-line production. This is an achievement of men who are injecting new methods and ideas into an old industry.

In the new 1948 Kaiser, Frazer, Kaiser Custom, and Frazer Manhattan you get all the features that others have attempted to copy since Kaiser-Frazer design was introduced in 1947.

So far no one has been able to more than approximate the graceful exterior body lines. No one has come near matching the roadability . . . the ride resulting from seats cradled between the front and rear wheels, such wide seats with both elbow and shoulder room. And none have the style features, the wide choice of colors and fabrics.

You get all this plus the many refinements made possible by years-ahead engineering and design. And, of course, all 1948 Kaiser or Frazer cars have the new Goodyear 24-pound pressure Super-Cushion tires that make bumps something you see but never feel.

Wherever you drive, wherever you go, 'round the corner, down the street, there is a Kaiser-Frazer dealer ready to serve you with genuine factory parts and approved service.

Enjoy a ride today in America's newest new cars—the 1948 cars that have not gone up in price!

SPRING TOO EARLY?

THERE ARE those who welcome the over-stay of winter and the coming of late Spring blizzards. These are maple sirup makers. Mid-March's howling north winds that carried blinding snow storms from Kansas City to New York may have made some folks sigh for Summer, but not the owners of sugar bush.

Freezing nights and warmer days make the sap run in the maple trees. Warm weather, with cold nights, fills the pails that hang on hard maple trees this time of year. Until this year's untimely storm, there had been too much sunshine, too many dry days. The maples were not giving up their juice. It was going to be a bad maple sirup year. Perhaps Winter returned in the nick of time.

During the first week of April, a momentous contest between Vermont and Ohio is to be settled. Gov. Ernest W. Gibson of Vermont and Gov. Thomas J. Herbert of Ohio will meet in Chardon, center of the Ohio maple sirup industry. Blindfolded they will taste samples of each state's sirup, and state the one they like best. The decision is calculated to end forever the long rivalry between these states as to which makes the best sirup.

Meanwhile sugar makers of both states agree on one matter; they hope this year's Spring is very late in coming.

FARM LIFE DANGEROUS

WHEN ONE considers the number of hazards which make city life dangerous and exciting, farm life seems, on the face of it, to have few if any perils. According to statistics, however, in a nine-year period covered by a survey 38,700 farmers were killed while at work, 133,200 farm residents met violent deaths, and 10,125,000 non-fatal farm-home accidents occurred.

The farmer uses dangerous machinery of great potential power, and is often unfamiliar with its intricacies. Unlike the factory owner, he is not required by law to adopt safety devices, and often disregards the most common rules of safety. As a result, arms are chewed off by corn-pickers, legs are lost in collisions with reapers, and carelessness causes falls from trees, sheds, haylofts and barn roofs. Insurance men say that a farmer's chances of being killed or injured while at work are much greater than those in any other line of work.

Farmers are very important people, without whom the world would starve. It behooves them, therefore, to read and follow the directions which come with their powerful machinery, and to watch their steps on high places.

Up to a typical March day, bits of sunshine, wind and dark clouds on the horizon. Noted a falling barometer and prepared against rain. Had hoped for a dry spell to encourage plowing and work at the GE plant where the workers were out of mud for the first time since work started. Noted foundations rising above ground and marveled at the device that pumps concrete some 200 yards from the road, to spots where it is needed. Saw much new lumber and great piles of brick accumulating against the start of above-ground construction. Still amazed at the great and difficult job of grading done at the site by our own Replogle.

More and more talk about Memorial Lake. Options on land for the project expire July 1 and from the shape of things now the lake will pass out of the picture at the same time. Before 1932, the United States was populated by Americans with a few aliens here and there. Since then, it would appear that the United States is populated by minorities. How these minorities came into existence after 1932 would make an interesting study in political machinations, for it was definitely done to get votes. In fact, Mr. Roosevelt kept an anonymous secretary in the White House, David Niles, once surnamed Neyhus, for that specific purpose.

It used to be that every person native to this country, whatever his parentage, regarded himself as having undivided loyalty and allegiance, namely, to a minority. And as a member of a minority, he is expected to vote as his minority votes. And each minority supports heavily-financed minority leaders who not only go about arranging how the minority is to vote on Election Day but often arranging something good for themselves. It has become a business.

The National Educational Association Journal published "Promising Practices in Intergroup Education," which they apparently received from the National Conference of Christians and Jews and which was developed by Leo Shapiro, of the Anti-Defamation League, and Benjamin Goldenberg, of the Bureau for Intercultural Education.

The idea seems to be that these minorities ought to like each other better, which they used to do anyhow before they were split up into minorities. There are apparently 11 ways to accomplish this get-together:

"1. The contributions approach—(a) 'Great men,' outstanding members of minority groups; (b) folk contribution, ethnic or religious customs.

"2. The people-are-alike approach—Emphasizes the basic characteristics common to all men, that difference as such does not constitute inferiority.

"3. The study-of-prejudice approach—Investigate the reasons for stereotyped thinking and the effects of prejudice and discrimination on personality and social structure.

"4. The precept approach—Investigates what 'the American way of life' really means; analyzes democratic ideals.

"5. The democratic-procedures approach—Affords practice in democratic living thru classroom routines and student government.

"6. The ideals-vs.-practice approach—'The American dilemma'; what America stands for contrasted with actual practices.

"7. The vicarious-experiences approach—Attacks stereotyped thinking thru use of books and dramatics.

"8. The school-activities approach—Attempts to inculcate cooperation and mutual respect in all aspects of school life for all the children.

"9. The guidance approach—Aims to make children feel secure in school relationships.

"10. The personal contacts approach—Fosters pleasant experiences with members of other groups.

"11. The community-participation approach—Use of the community as a resource and relation of the school to the community."

DIET AND HEALTH

A Stubborn Disorder to Cure

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

ONE of the most annoying and uncomfortable of disorders is pruritus ani, or itching around the opening of the lower bowel. In many cases, it is also one of the most difficult to get rid of. Of course, its duration will largely depend upon the cause in the individual case, as well as the kind of treatment given. Where it is simply a matter of improper hygiene, proper cleanliness will result in the disappearance of symptoms.

Other types of cases present more of a problem, as, for instance, those which are due to allergy or over-sensitivity to some food or beverage. If the food to which the patient is sensitive can be discovered, the only problem which remains is control of the appetite. Once offending items are eliminated from the diet, the trouble will clear up.

Responsible Factor

In certain cases, the use of alcoholic beverages may be a responsible factor in this type of case. Then, too, a few persons may be sensitive to some article of clothing or to some medication which has been applied to the skin area. Allergy, however, accounts for only about one case in twenty.

It would seem that the most stubborn cases—those where the condition has lasted for a year or more—are largely due to a fungus or yeast-like infection. A careful study of scrapings made from the skin to determine the type of fungus present may be helpful, since the treatment to be used may depend upon the kind of fungus causing the difficulty.

In mild cases of itching in this area, the condition will clear up quickly if the area is washed thoroughly after each bowel movement. X-ray treatments will give relief temporarily or, in some instances, almost permanently. In other cases, injection into the skin area of an anesthetic or pain-relieving substance gives ease for about a ten-day period.

Alcohol injections in this area may produce a permanent cure, but only when there are areas of the skin. This treatment is quite painful, and, as a rule, the doctor does not consider it advisable.

One treatment which seems to bring permanent relief in severe cases is the cutting of the sensory nerves to this area. This may be done by making incisions through the skin and packing the cut surfaces with a material called oxidized cellulose. This material controls the bleeding and keeps the nerve fibers separated, while the skin itself remains healthy. Good results have been obtained with the use of this treatment.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

S. M. D.: What causes cold sores?
Answer: Cold sores, scientifically known as herpes labialis, are due to infection by a certain type of virus. They frequently occur in association with such diseases as the common cold, pneumonia, malaria, and meningitis.

It has been found that one X-ray treatment will tend to prevent the recurrence of this condition in many instances. In many cases, further attacks are prevented by vaccination against small-pox every two or three weeks for a few months.

HOW MANY HAVE YOU?

IN YOUR PLAY for a suit contract, the height of your side's trumps is not so important as the number of cards held by yourself and your partner. That is the factor which determines whether or not you can remove the defenders' trumps before your own are gone. The factor of honor strength applies with practically equal force to all four suits. It helps during the auction to bear in mind that aces, kings and queens in side suits usually take the same number of tricks as if they were in trumps.

What a difference in skill between the bidding at those two tables of a tournament. At Table 1, South was one of those chaps wedded to the expression "bidable suit" and has not yet learned that a major suit of any five cards is usually worth bidding. Having no high cards at its top, he could find nothing to say except Clubs, so his poor partner landed in an unmakeable eleven-trick contract in which he had to lose two tricks in spades and one in hearts, even though he guessed the club finesse right.

At Table 2, South had learned from experience that a bid like his 1-Spade was winning bridge, especially when he had such a neat fit for the clubs and that beautiful singleton top in diamonds. North did exactly right on his second turn to bid his hearts. When South then showed the club fit at the three level, North knew he could safely try a shift to spades with just three of the suit. Not having supported the spades on his first chance to do so, North could not possibly have four of them, as his pair bids; so, if South's suit had been just a four-carder, he would have shifted to clubs. This South made his game, losing two spades and one heart, with the club finesse guessed right.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

TURNING on tall silver heels, Kit opened the door and stepped into the lighted hall. The house was beautiful tonight with flowers everywhere, she thought, as she descended the wide stairs and crossed the vast main hall to enter the drawing room.

Kirk, Tony and Mike, in white dinner jackets, stood up. Tracy, wearing a revealing black net frock, gave her a tolerant smile and Anita, in blue, a wry grimace which was supposed to pass for a smile.

Mike, looking almost handsome, went toward Kit, thinking, She's the loveliest girl I've ever seen... He said, "I couldn't call for you, Kit. You were already here."

Tracy waved toward a full tray on the table. "Have a cocktail, Kit."

"Thank you." She did not look at Kirk as she took her place in the group. Mike brought her a cocktail. For an awful minute she felt unwanted and she could feel hot tears behind her eyes. She thought, I feel as if I were a freak in a side show...

"How about some music?" Mike moved toward the exquisite antique mahogany cabinet which housed a phonograph and radio.

"What were you saying, dear?" Anita asked of Tony.

Tony smiled. "I was asking Kirk about business conditions in the west."

Kirk said, "This is no time to talk business, Tony."

But Tracy, pleased and confident, urged, "But go on, Kirk. You said the attitude of the people out there was different from ours, more optimistic."

Kit thought, She doesn't care about what people think. She just wants to hear the sound of his voice...

After a while Tracy said, "And you talked to all sorts of people, Kirk? Not only the people in business but the man on the street?"

"I wasn't supposed to but I did. I enjoyed that part of it most. I talked to cab drivers and vendors and working girls and boys..."

Anita looked at Kit. "Oh, you mean girls like Miss Marshall, Kirk..."

Kit colored.

Kirk said, "No, Anita. Not to anyone like Kit—unfortunately."

Mike, putting on a record, heard and chuckled. Why didn't Tracy throw her out? At least why didn't she remind her that she was living on charity? Coming back to the group, he helped himself to another cocktail then sat on the arm of Kit's chair and said, "Kit can speak for herself. Tell him, Kit, what does the working girl think? Is she sorry for herself? Doesn't she think it's still a pretty swell world?"

She had told herself that she would not quit. "Yes," she said quickly, knowing that Mike was depending on her. She threw a defiant glance at the others. "The working girl can take care of herself. She wants to do her job and be paid reasonably well for it. She isn't pessimistic about the future. She knows she's very small in the great scheme of things but on the other hand she knows she has a part to play. She's one of the builders..."

Kirk's blue eyes beneath his frown were keenly alert. Tracy and Tony looked amused, Anita startled...

Kirk said steadily, "If everyone in the country felt as you do, Kit, there wouldn't be any fear."

"I think that most women do. I don't think that the women are afraid."

"Afraid of what?" Anita asked vaguely.

Everyone laughed. Tony hushed her. "Nothing, dear. Nothing." At that moment dinner was announced.

Amber candles in tall silver candleholders shed a golden light on rare lace and gleaming silver and crystal. It was a superb dinner superbly served.

As she had known she would, Kit saw Kirk in the flickering candlelight. Once, once only, their eyes met for an instant. He gave her an intimate smile but one which also revealed that he was puzzled. Then again Tracy discreetly questioned him...

The guests would be coming soon. Kit thought, when they were having coffee in the drawing room. The house was in readiness for Tracy's hundred guests. A proud house, waiting to be admired, waiting for people to walk through its rooms, for music to penetrate every corner. Her hand on the cup shook a little. Her hands were still shaking when the guests began to arrive and there was music in the ballroom.

Kit danced first with Mike, then with a blond, suave young man who suggested they leave the house and go for a drive. Kit danced politely. She looked so uncomfortable that Mike, standing at the entrance to the ballroom and watching the glittering throng, rescued her. Dancing with him, she saw Kirk's fair head rising above the others as he danced with Tracy.

Mike said, "Everybody will know who Tracy's new man is after tonight and why she's staying close to home this summer. She's at her best right now. Look at her! A big audience and everybody bowing to her. A hundred acquaintances and not a single friend. There's not one person here she'd let see her cry. I need a drink. Come to the bar with me?"

"Of course, Mike."

The bar was crowded and noisy. Mike spoke to several people and Tony murmured acknowledgments to several introductions.

"Something for you to drink, Kit?"

"No, thanks, Mike."

"You're a smart girl."

She heard Kirk's voice over her shoulder. "I won't stand for a moment on Kit." So many young men in the world, she thought. So many here tonight and yet for her only one. This man whose name would be spoken with Tracy's after tonight.

"Dance, Kit?" Kirk asked. "Or would you prefer some fresh air? It's great outdoors..."

Mike said, "I don't mind, Kit. Run along. I feel an argument coming on."

"I'd rather go outside, Kirk." If she went inside and danced with him, everyone would see them together—everyone including Tracy.

Outside dim figures moved—the white dinner jackets of the men, the splash of color of the women's frocks and the lighted ends of cigarette stabs stabbing the darkness. The fragrance of roses lay heavy and sweet on the warm air and mingled with the soft music pouring from the opened windows.

SPRING TOO EARLY?
THERE ARE those who welcome the overstay of winter and the coming of late spring blizzards. These are maple sirup makers. Mid-March's howling north winds that carried blinding snow storms from Kansas City to New York may have made some folks sigh for Summer, but not the owners of sugar bush.
Freezing nights and warmer days make the sap run in the maple trees. Warm weather, with cold nights, fills the pails that hang on hard maple trees this time of year. Until this year's untimely storm, there had been too much sunshine, too many dry days. The maples were not giving up their juice. It was going to be a bad maple sirup year. Perhaps Winter returned in the nick of time.
During the first week of April, a momentous contest between Vermont and Ohio is to be settled. Gov. Ernest W. Gibson of Vermont and Gov. Thomas J. Herbert of Ohio will meet in Chardon, center of the Ohio maple sirup industry. Blindfolded they will taste samples of each state's sirup, and state the one they like best. The decision is calculated to end forever the long rivalry between these states as to which makes the best sirup.
Meanwhile sugar makers of both states agree on one matter; they hope this year's Spring is very late in coming.

Where it is simply a matter of improper hygiene, proper cleanliness will result in the disappearance of symptoms.
Other types of cases present more of a problem, as, for instance, those which are due to allergy or hypersensitivity to some food or beverage. If the food to which the patient is sensitive can be discovered, the only problem which remains is control of the appetite. Once offending items are eliminated from the diet, the trouble will clear up.
Responsible Factor
In certain cases, the use of alcoholic beverages may be a responsible factor in this type of case. Then, too, a few persons may be sensitive to some article of clothing or to some medication which has been applied to the skin area. Allergy, however, accounts for only about one case in twenty.
It would seem that the most stubborn cases—those where the condition has lasted for a year or more—are largely due to a fungus or yeast-like infection. A careful study of scrapings made from the skin of the affected area, however, will present may be helpful, since the treatment to be used may depend upon the kind of fungus causing the difficulty.
In mild cases of itching in this area, the condition will clear up quickly if the area is washed thoroughly after each bowel movement. X-ray treatments will give relief temporarily or, in some instances, almost permanently. In other cases, injection into the skin area of an anesthetic or pain-relieving substance gives ease for about a ten-day period.
Alcohol injections in this area may produce a permanent cure, but only when they also produce destruction of large areas of the skin. This treatment is quite painful, and, as a rule, the doctor does not consider it advisable.
One treatment which seems to bring permanent relief in severe cases is the cutting of the sensory nerves to this area. This may be done by making incisions through the skin and packing the cut surfaces with a material called oxidized cellulose. This material controls the bleeding and keeps the nerve fibers separated, while the skin itself remains healthy. Good results have been obtained with the use of this treatment.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
S. M. D.: What causes cold sores?
Answer: Cold sores, scientifically known as herpes labialis, are due to infection by a certain type of virus. They frequently occur in association with such diseases as the common cold, pneumonia, malaria, and meningitis.
It has been found that one X-ray treatment will tend to prevent the recurrence of this condition in many instances. In many cases, further attacks are prevented by vaccination against small-pox every two or three weeks for a few months.

HOW MANY HAVE YOU?
IN YOUR PLAY for a suit contract, the height of your side's trumps is not so important as the number of cards held by yourself and your partner. That is the factor which determines whether or not you can remove the defenders' trumps before your own are gone. The factor of honor strength applies with practically equal force to all four suits. It helps during the auction to bear in mind that aces, kings and queens in side suits usually take the same number of tricks as if they were in trumps.

What a difference in skill between the bidding at these two tables of a tournament. At Table 1, South was one of those chaps wedded to the expression "bidable suit" and has not yet learned that a major suit of only five cards is usually worth bidding. Having no high cards at its top, he could find nothing to say except Clubs, so his poor partner landed in an unmakeable eleven-trick contract in which he had to lose two tricks in spades and one in hearts, even though he guessed the club finesse right.
At Table 2, South had learned from experience that a bid like his 1-Spade was winning bridge, especially when he had such a neat fit for the clubs and that beautiful singleton top in diamonds. North did exactly right on his second turn to bid his hearts. When South then showed the club fit at the three level, North knew he could safely try a shift to spades with just three of the suit. Not having supported the spades on his first chance to do so, North could not possibly have four of them, as his pair bids; so, if South's suit had been just a four-carder, he would have shifted to clubs. This South made his game, losing two spades and one heart, with the club finesse guessed right.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN
TURNING on tall silver heels, Kit opened the door and stepped into the lighted hall. The house was beautiful tonight with flowers everywhere, she thought, as she descended the wide stairs and crossed the vast main hall to enter the drawing room.
Kirk, Tony and Mike, in white dinner jackets, stood up. Tracy, wearing a revealing black net frock, gave her a tolerant smile and Anita, in blue, a wry grimace which was supposed to pass for a smile.
Mike, looking almost handsome, went toward Kit, thinking, She, the loveliest girl I've ever seen... He said, "I couldn't call for you, Kit. You were already here."
Tracy waved toward a full tray on the table. "Have a cocktail, Kit."
"Thank you."
She did not look at Kirk as she took her place in the group. Mike brought her a cocktail. For an awful minute she felt unwanted and she could feel hot tears behind her eyes. She thought, I feel as if I were a freak in a side show...
"How about some music?" Mike moved toward the exquisite antique mahogany cabinet which housed a phonograph and radio.
"What were you saying, dear?" Anita asked of Tony.
Tony smiled. "I was asking Kirk about business conditions in the west."
Kirk said, "This is no time to talk business, Tony."
But Tracy, pleased and confident, urged, "But go on, Kirk. You said the attitude of the people out there was different from ours, more optimistic."
Kit thought, She doesn't care about what people think. She just wants to hear the sound of his voice...
After a while Tracy said, "And you talked to all sorts of people, Kirk? Not only the people in business but the man on the street?"
"I wasn't supposed to but I did. I enjoyed that part of it most. I talked to cab drivers and vendors and working girls and boys..."
Anita looked at Kit. "Oh, you mean girls like Miss Marshall, Kirk..."
Kit colored.
Kirk said, "No, Anita. Not to anyone like Kit—unfortunately." Mike, putting on a record, heard and chuckled. Why didn't Tracy throw her out? At least why didn't she remind her that she was living on charity? Coming back to the group, he helped himself to another cocktail then sat on the arm of Kit's chair and said, "Kit can speak for herself. Tell him, Kit, what does the working girl think? Is she sorry for herself? Doesn't she think it's still a pretty swell world?"
She had told herself that she would not quit. "Yes," she said quickly, knowing that Mike was depending on her. She threw a defiant glance at the others. "The working girl can take care of herself. She wants only to do her job and be paid reasonably well for it. She isn't putting on a very small figure. She knows she's very small in the great scheme of things but on the other hand she knows she has a part to play. She's one of the builders..."
Kirk's blue eyes beneath his frown were keenly alert. Tracy and Tony looked amused, Anita startled...
Kirk said steadily, "If everyone in the country felt you do, Kit, there wouldn't be any fear."
"I think that most women do. I don't think that the women are afraid."
"Afraid of what?" Anita asked vaguely.
Everyone laughed.
Tony hushed her. "Nothing, dear. Nothing." At that moment dinner was announced.
Amber candles in tall silver candelabra shed a golden light on rare lace and gleaming silver and crystal. It was a superb dinner superbly served.
As she had known she would, Kit saw Kirk in the flickering candlelight. Once, once only, their eyes met for an instant. He gave her an intimate smile but one which also revealed that he was puzzled. Then again Tracy discreetly questioned him...
The guests would be coming soon, Kit thought, when they were having coffee in the drawing room. The house was in readiness for Tracy's hundred guests. A proud house, waiting to be admired, waiting for people to walk through its rooms, for music to penetrate every corner. Her hand on the cup shook a little. Her hands were still shaking when the guests began to arrive and there was music in the ballroom.
Kit danced first with Mike, then with a blond, suave young man who suggested they leave the house and go for a drive. Kit demurred politely. She looked so uncomfortable that Mike, standing at the entrance to the ballroom and watching the glittering throng, rescued her. Dancing with him, she saw Kirk's fair head rising above the others as he danced with Tracy.
Mike said, "Everybody will know who Tracy's new man is after tonight and why she's staying close to home this summer. She's at her best right now. Look at her! A big audience and everybody bowing to her. A hundred acquaintances and not a single friend. There's not one person here she'd let see her cry. I need a drink. Come to the bar with me?"
"Of course, Mike."
The bar was crowded and noisy. Mike spoke to several people and Kit murmured acknowledgments to several introductions.
"Something for you to drink, Kit?"
"No, thanks, Mike."
She heard Kirk's voice over her shoulder. "I won't stand for a monopoly on Kit." She turned and looked up at him. So many young men in the world, she thought. So many here tonight and yet for her only one. This man whose name would be spoken with Tracy's after tonight.
"Dance, Kit?" Kirk asked. "Or would you prefer some fresh air? It's great outdoors..."
Mike said, "I don't mind, Kit. Run along. I feel an argument coming on."
"I'd rather go outside, Kirk." If she went inside and danced with him, everyone would see them together—everyone including Tracy. Outside dim figures moved—the white dinner jackets of the men, the splash of color of the women's frocks and the lighted ends of cigarettes stabbing the darkness. The fragrance of roses lay heavy and sweet on the warm air mingled with the soft music pouring from the open windows.

'Husbands' Party' Held In Wardell Party Home Monday Evening

Study Group Hosts Affair

Members of the Child Study Club were hostesses at a "husbands' party" Monday evening in the Wardell party home. The group was seated at two long tables bearing bouquets of Spring flowers as decorations.

A song fest took place as the plates were being served. The husbands were asked to introduce themselves and "break the ice" by answering questions found concealed in the place cards.

A quartet composed of John Heiskell, Charles Kirkpatrick, Gladden Troutman and Charles Walters, sang several numbers. They were accompanied by Carl Palm at the piano. A group of readings was offered by Troutman.

Mrs. John Heiskell related facts concerning the Child Study Club, its function and purpose and a resume of activities during the last five years.

Floral decorations were presented to the couples married the longest and the shortest time. Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Seiverts had the longest record while Mr. and Mrs. Ned Dresbach were most recently wedded. Games with prizes being awarded brought the social affair to a close.

Mrs. Walters served as general chairman of the dinner and program. She was assisted by Mrs. Charles Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Kenneth Bell, Mrs. Joseph Bell and Mrs. Henry Helwagen.

Girl Scouts Mark National Anniversary

The 36th National Girl Scout birthday was celebrated by Scouts of Circleville and Pickaway County with a party in Scout headquarters Friday evening. The affair was in the form of a quiz on Juliette Low and the background of the Girl Scout organization.

Members of the board and leaders were guests of the girls. One complete newspaper was the admission fee which will later be sold as waste paper to defray mailing expenses on the "clothing for friendship" kits now being prepared as part of the national project.

The "Brownie Smile Song" and "Girl Scouts Together" opened the entertainment, then each troop enacted some phase of Scouting or work pertaining to Juliette Low.

With the singing of the birthday song, a tray bearing 36 green and yellow lighted candles and individual envelopes containing money was brought into the room. The money was awarded each of the troops to help defray expenses of the clothing kits.

The girls decided instead of the usual party and refreshments they would present an entertainment to foster thought and friendship for others less fortunate.

Mrs. John Gordon was in charge of the program. She was assisted by Mrs. Walter F. Heine, Mrs. Carl Snider and Mrs. John W. Eshelman.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better. Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

How Banks Speed Up COMMUNITY PROSPERITY

A man working alone with a forked stick or a hoe can turn up a few rows of earth for seeding.

A man with a horse and a steel plough can do a hundred times as much work; while a man with a tractor and a gang plough can turn up a thousand times as much land.

In the same way a bank enables a community to make faster and more productive use of its circulating dollars. A bank, therefore, is a powerful piece of modern financial machinery which directly contributes to the welfare and progress of the people it serves.

Girl Scouts Mark National Anniversary

The 36th National Girl Scout birthday was celebrated by Scouts of Circleville and Pickaway County with a party in Scout headquarters Friday evening. The affair was in the form of a quiz on Juliette Low and the background of the Girl Scout organization.

Members of the board and leaders were guests of the girls. One complete newspaper was the admission fee which will later be sold as waste paper to defray mailing expenses on the "clothing for friendship" kits now being prepared as part of the national project.

The "Brownie Smile Song" and "Girl Scouts Together" opened the entertainment, then each troop enacted some phase of Scouting or work pertaining to Juliette Low.

With the singing of the birthday song, a tray bearing 36 green and yellow lighted candles and individual envelopes containing money was brought into the room. The money was awarded each of the troops to help defray expenses of the clothing kits.

The girls decided instead of the usual party and refreshments they would present an entertainment to foster thought and friendship for others less fortunate.

Mrs. John Gordon was in charge of the program. She was assisted by Mrs. Walter F. Heine, Mrs. Carl Snider and Mrs. John W. Eshelman.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, flat, sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better. Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps build sturdy health.

Miss Mary Krimmel presented the topic obtained from "Women's Missionary Outlook" periodical. Mrs. Lawrence Krimmel was named chairman of the life membership and memorial committee.

Mrs. Lyle Davis, chair man, presented the program consisting of piano solos by Miss Krimmel, Ruth Troutman, Joyce Troutman and Judy List, a monologue by Mrs. Willard Duleson and a playette by Miss Kern and Mrs. Lyle Davis. Moving pictures were shown by Lewis Lockard. The April meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. Ellis List.

How Banks Speed Up

COMMUNITY PROSPERITY

A man working alone with a forked stick or a hoe can turn up a few rows of earth for seeding.

A man with a horse and a steel plough can do a hundred times as much work; while a man with a tractor and a gang plough can turn up a thousand times as much land.

In the same way a bank enables a community to make faster and more productive use of its circulating dollars. A bank, therefore, is a powerful piece of modern financial machinery which directly contributes to the welfare and progress of the people it serves.

Local Riflemen Eye Outdoor Season, Hope For Loop Crown

Members of the Pickaway County Rifle and Pistol Club are looking forward to one of the most successful seasons in its history and are hopeful of repeating their performance of three years ago when they won the Central Ohio Rifle League championship.

Expectations of the organization are based on an increased membership that includes several young veterans of the last war and the return of several shooters who showed great promise in past years.

Several girls and women also are expected to participate in the outdoor season's shooting.

The local outdoor range at the Fairgrounds is the finest in the CORL and is surpassed in the entire state only by the range at Marietta which is nationally known.

THE LAST two outdoor seasons, Circleville has been downed by Chillicothe, a merged organization of Ross County shooters and six outstanding marksmen from Washington C. H.

A League move now is underway to break up the combination and force organization of a separate Washington C. H. team.

In the gallery match held

COLUMBUS, March 16—The state racing commission resumed its rules hearing in Columbus today with indications that it would formally adopt a controversial regulation making totalizers necessary on all tracks "in excess of three-fourths of a mile."

The commission slightly amended its proposed rule yesterday to permit approval "of any totalizer which substantially performs the function performed by any totalizer approved by this commission before March 1, 1948."

Adoption of the tote resolution presaged a new court battle by the Beulah Park Jockey Club, which has refused to install the mechanical tabulator at its Grove City track.

According to police, the argument began when Williams requested the passenger to leave by a rear door. When the passenger pulled a knife, Rennie, who also was a passenger on the bus, came to Williams' aid.

The killer put away his knife and pulled out his gun. Eight passengers in the bus ducked behind seats as the gunman began firing. He escaped through the front door. Williams, mortally wounded, fell out of the bus.

Richard Williams, 35, the bus driver, was slain when a belligerent passenger, accompanied by a woman, whipped out a gun and shot him in the chest.

Walter R. Rennie, 28, a roommate of Williams' and also a bus driver, was wounded in the right ear when he leaped from the bus in an attempt to escape the fusillade of shots.

Bus Driver Shot To Death By Passenger

AKRON, March 16—Akron police combed the Euclid, East Avenue district today for three bus passengers who know the identity of an man who killed one bus driver and wounded another last night.

Richard Williams, 35, the bus driver, was slain when a belligerent passenger, accompanied by a woman, whipped out a gun and shot him in the chest.

Walter R. Rennie, 28, a roommate of Williams' and also a bus driver, was wounded in the right ear when he leaped from the bus in an attempt to escape the fusillade of shots.

According to police, the argument began when Williams requested the passenger to leave by a rear door. When the passenger pulled a knife, Rennie, who also was a passenger on the bus, came to Williams' aid.

The killer put away his knife and pulled out his gun. Eight passengers in the bus ducked behind seats as the gunman began firing. He escaped through the front door. Williams, mortally wounded, fell out of the bus.

Local Riflemen Eye Outdoor Season, Hope For Loop Crown

Members of the Pickaway County Rifle and Pistol Club are looking forward to one of the most successful seasons in its history and are hopeful of repeating their performance of three years ago when they won the Central Ohio Rifle League championship.

Expectations of the organization are based on an increased membership that includes several young veterans of the last war and the return of several shooters who showed great promise in past years.

Several girls and women also are expected to participate in the outdoor season's shooting.

The local outdoor range at the Fairgrounds is the finest in the CORL and is surpassed in the entire state only by the range at Marietta which is nationally known.

THE LAST two outdoor seasons, Circleville has been downed by Chillicothe, a merged organization of Ross County shooters and six outstanding marksmen from Washington C. H.

A League move now is underway to break up the combination and force organization of a separate Washington C. H. team.

4 Local Physicians Plan Attending State Conference

Ohio Medics To Air New Techniques

3-Day Meet Set In Cincinnati

Four Cincinnati physicians are expected to attend a three-day annual meeting of the Ohio State Medical Association when it convenes March 30 through April 1, at the Netherland Plaza and Hotel Gibson in Cincinnati.

Representing Pickaway County will be an official delegate, Dr. George Heffner, or the alternate, Dr. Harry D. Jackson; and officers of the Pickaway County Medical Society, Dr. D. V. Courtwright, president; and Dr. W. F. Heine, secretary.

While the physicians are in the scientific sessions, their wives and daughters will attend the annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Ohio State Medical Association at the Hotel Sinton.

The physicians will engage in a concentrated attack on the prevention of disease, newest methods of diagnosis, treatment and surgical techniques.

IT IS EXPECTED that over 2,000 of the association's 7,000 members will participate in instructional courses, lectures, and panel discussions and review the educational exhibits, all designed to keep the doctors' medical knowledge up to date.

Besides the three-day program on progress in medical science, the annual session of the association's house of delegates will be an important part of the meeting.

Here delegates elected by Ohio's 88 county medical societies will consider questions of official policy for the guidance of the state's medical profession.

They also will elect new officers for the coming year.

Nearly 200 Ohio doctors of medicine are scheduled on the program as instructors, speakers or discussants, in addition to many out of state speakers.

State Legislator Doubts Realty Tax Necessary To Finance Bonus

In all probability, the Ohio servicemen's bonus will be financed without any levy on real estate.

Such was the opinion voiced Monday evening by C. William O'Neill, Marietta, speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives who spoke before Circleville Kiwanis Club.

O'Neill declared that Ohio's bonus to its former GIs will be financed by present surpluses in the state treasury and by the continual pouring of tax monies.

The Marietta legislator said that each month, the first million dollars in state income taxes, excluding hunting and fishing fees and fuel taxes, "are mortgaged to the bonus for the next 15 years."

THIS MEANS $12 million a year, O'Neill declared. Necessary additional money is being appropriated by the legislature. If any more is required, then the amount is certified to the various 88 county auditors to be picked up by taxation on real estate.

O'Neill said that "it looks now very much like any real estate levy will be unnecessary."

The house speaker explained who is eligible for the state bonus for World War II veterans and how much each is to receive.

He reviewed the law which allows bonuses for Ohioans at the rate of $10 for each month of domestic service and $15 a month for service overseas . . . up to a maximum of $400. He said that survivors of men who died in service are to receive the maximum amount. Survivors of men who have died at home since discharge are eligible to receive whatever amount the former serviceman had coming.

O'NEILL STATED he could not estimate when the last Ohioan would receive his bonus.

"The machinery is complicated," he explained. "If we were to write checks at the rate of 5,000 a day, it would take about nine months to complete the job."

"We in Columbus hope the last bonus will be written by Summer," he said. "At least, we've whispered in the governor's ear the checks better be done by election day."

Teamsters End Cincy Walkout

CINCINNATI, March 16 —

Members of the AFL-Teamsters Union, on strike for 18 days against four trucking concerns hauling new cars from the Chevrolet plant at Cincinnati's suburban Norwood, reported back to work today.

The 170 teamsters agreed Sunday to accept wage increases offered by the companies before the strike, but still face the threat of suits totalling nearly $3,000,000.

Local Union President George Starling said hourly wage workers will be upped from $1.05 to $1.20 an hour and that increases ranging from half a cent to a cent and a quarter will be made for loaded miles driven.

Meyers Seeking Jail Freedom

WASHINGTON, March 16 —

Maj. Gen. Bennett Meyers launched an attempt today to get himself out of jail—for a while, at least.

The imprisoned officer's lawyer's put the finishing touches on a motion asking the U. S. court of appeals to free their client on bail pending a hearing on his appeal.

They are expected to file the bail motion sometime today. A notice of appeal already has been filed.

Meyers was sentenced to 20 months to 5 years in prison yesterday after being found guilty of inducing his former associate, Blieriot Lamarre, to lie to a Senate subcommittee. He spent the first night of the sentence in the District of Columbia jail.

The once proud deputy chief of AAF procurement was led handcuffed from the courtroom after the sentencing and later was loaded into a van with 24 other prisoners and taken to the jail.

4 Local Physicians Plan Attending State Conference

Ohio Medics To Air New Techniques

3-Day Meet Set In Cincinnati

Four Cincinnati physicians are expected to attend a three-day annual meeting of the Ohio State Medical Association when it convenes March 30 through April 1 at the Netherland Plaza and Hotel Gibson in Cincinnati.

Representing Pickaway County will be an official delegate, Dr. George Heffner, or the alternate, Dr. Harry D. Jackson; and officers of the Pickaway County Medical Society, Dr. D. V. Courtwright, president; and Dr. W. F. Heine, secretary.

While the physicians are in the scientific sessions, their wives and daughters will attend the annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Ohio State Medical Association at the Hotel Sinton.

The physicians will engage in a concentrated attack on the prevention of disease, newest methods of diagnosis, treatment and surgical techniques.

IT IS EXPECTED that over 2,000 of the association's 7,000 members will participate in instructional courses, lectures, and panel discussions and review the educational exhibits, all designed to keep the doctors' medical knowledge up to date.

Besides the three-day program on progress in medical science, the annual session of the association's house of delegates will be an important part of the meeting.

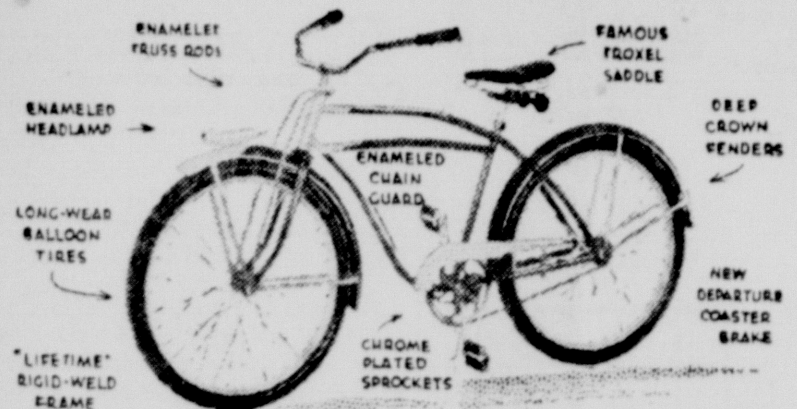

Here delegates elected by Ohio's 88 county medical societies will consider questions of official policy for the guidance of the state's medical profession.

They also will elect new officers for the coming year.

Nearly 200 Ohio doctors of medicine are scheduled on the program as instructors, speakers or discussants, in addition to many out of state speakers.

State Legislator Doubts Realty Tax Necessary To Finance Bonus

In all probability, the Ohio servicemen's bonus will be financed without any levy on real estate.

Such was the opinion voiced Monday evening by C. William O'Neill, Marietta, speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives who spoke before Circleville Kiwanis Club.

O'Neill declared that Ohio's bonus to its former GIs will be financed by present surpluses in the state treasury and by the continual pouring of tax monies.

The Marietta legislator said that each month, the first million dollars in state incoming taxes, excluding hunting and fishing fees and fuel taxes, "are
